

Spring 2025

Multicultural Education

Questions? Contact Tom: tbrowning@ecsdnv.net

In this course we will:

- Expand teachers' understanding of identity and diversity beyond race and ethnicity
- Develop a strengths-based approach to understanding how identity influences teaching and learning.
- Implement evidence-based practices for developing a culturally responsive, engaging, and supportive pedagogical approach while maintaining high expectations for assessing students' learning and growth.
- Remove the MULTICULTURAL EDUCATION license provision (Nevada)

Course Dates: Spring 2025 | January 20 through March 23, 2025

Course Format: Meet once each week via Zoom and complete all other coursework online.

Course Text: All required readings/texts are included in CANVAS.

Credit: 3 SUU graduate-level, continuing education credits | Cost: $69.00 paid directly to SUU

OR

Credit: 45-hour RPDP Certificate of Professional Learning | Cost: None

Zoom Cohort 1: Wednesdays (4:30-5:30pm PST) with Tom Browning, Ph.D.

Click here to register for the Wednesday cohort*

Zoom Cohort 2: Thursdays (5:00-6:00pm PST) with Thom Huston, Ph.D.

Click here to register for the Thursday cohort*

*Please only register for one cohort. Note that there are limited spots available and registration is only open until all spots are filled.

Instructor: Tom Browning, Ph.D. (tbrowning@ecsdnv.net)

Biography: Tom is passionate about helping teachers create inspiring learning communities and seeks to promote core reflection, equity literacy, and holistic education. He has 20 years of teaching experience across a variety of contexts, including seven years as a high school science teacher.

Instructor: Thom Huston, Ph.D. (HustonThP@zmail.com)

Biography: Dr. Huston has been involved in education since 1996. He earned his M.S. and B.A. degrees from Purdue University, and his Ph.D. from Indiana University—Bloomington. Huston has taught secondary and college courses both online and in traditional settings for Purdue University, Indiana University, and IUPUI. He is currently licensed for teaching English and Gifted and Talented Education. Huston's teaching goals include helping students explore cultures, ideologies, and thereby deepen their self-understanding.